Why should you consider a Single Premium Immediate Annuity?

Life expectancy is getting longer and retirees today face the challenge, and in some cases the reality, of running out of money. As your working life progresses, chances are you’ll probably start to ask yourself how much money you’ll need to retire. People that choose to retire early may have 5 or more years to wait until they receive Social Security or pension benefits. You may want to consider annuities as part of your retirement planning strategy because they provide a steady stream of income.

It’s time to take control of your financial future.

Sagicor’s Single Premium Immediate Annuity (SPIA) can provide you with a reliable and consistent income stream. The SPIA can provide predictable and dependable income payments, in a schedule that is designed by you. Your payments do not change in amount or frequency and, while economic conditions or investment returns may change, you can enjoy the security of a guaranteed income with no investment risk.
