We’ve Been There
Introducing Sagicor’s Wellness Initiative

Background
Sagicor, as a life and health insurance institution is committed to promoting the prevention and control of the NCD epidemic which plagues the region. We believe that it is important to advocate healthy living and wellness to address these conditions nationwide.

The NCD epidemic continues to affect the community. Employers along with their employees are faced with combating these challenges which include, but are not limited to:

- increased workforce absenteeism,
- rising health care costs,
- amputations and,
- loss of income through death of a loved one.

The increased incidence of NCDs is constantly evaluated by our Caribbean leaders. Similarly, healthcare professionals across the globe constantly warn us to take better care of our health. As it stands, the need for us to take heed of the myriad of credible voices urging us to live healthier lifestyles has never been more urgent.

Project Mission
Working with corporate partners, it is our mission to promote healthy lifestyle behavioural changes to facilitate increasing employee productivity and improve the overall health claims experience at a corporate level.

Sagicor’s view as a corporate citizen is that wellness should be treated as priority to combat NCD’s and poor lifestyle decisions. We therefore aspire to intercept chronic diseases such as obesity, heart disease and diabetes before they evolve.

Our Sagicor Medical Mobile Unit initiative provides a comprehensive approach to working with our corporate clients in managing their health and wellness to reduce healthcare costs. We appeal to you to create a corporate culture, focused on health and wellness, by implementing physical and mental health awareness strategies that are advocated by your senior management.
