Wise Financial Thinking for Life

The Mutual is now Sagicor.

Our company has been reborn. With our new name and our new mission comes a new vision for the next 160 years.

We recently embarked on one of the most important and exciting changes in our history. You have heard much about demutualization and the new corporate structure. This change is much more than that. It is about creating a great Caribbean financial services company – one that is able to compete with the best the region and the world have to offer.

It will allow us to do more for our clients than ever before. We will continue to protect our families, friends and neighbours when the worst happens. We will also help you share in the best life has to offer, through wise financial thinking and advice through all stages of life.

Sagicor will offer a world of new opportunities for you, as a customer of the organization that will define the future of financial services in the Caribbean. It will mean new products and services from us to help you achieve your dreams – to protect and build your wealth.

Your success and the success of the company are bound together and we are bound for bigger and better things.

Welcome to an exciting future with Sagicor.
